

La Manga North Course

Murcia, Spain

Par 71, 5753 metres

More undulating than the South, the North course relies on precision rather than length with the many storm gullies that snake their way through the course providing an added challenge.

A fair test of golf for both the high and low handicapper this well laid out course features tight fairways and large greens, palm trees and lakes. Whilst the greens are large, some also present quite a challenge with varying levels and gradients. the par 3 2nd is especially tough with three different plateaux and some of the newer greens are now quite fast.

The par 4 14th is perhaps the most difficult with a long drive over the gully and water coming into play on the left. the 18th presents quite a challenge as you finish with an audience just in front of the Hyatt Hotel - good luck!
